RAJYA SABHA

The following Bill was introduced in the Rajya Sabha on the 25th February, 1986:—

BILL NO. IX OF 1986

BE it enacted by Parliament in the Thirty-seventh Year of the Republic of India as follows:—

1. (1) This Act may be called the Contract Labour (Regulation and Short Abolition) Amendment Act, 1986.

Short title and commence-

- (2) It shall be deemed to have come into force on the 28th day of January, 1986.
- 2. In section 2 of the Contract Labour (Regulation and Abolition) Amend-Act, 1970 (hereinafter referred to as the principal Act), in sub-section ment of (1), for clause (a), the following clause shall be substituted, namely:

 Act 37 of 1970

'(a) "appropriate Government" means,-

- (i) in relation to an establishment in respect of which the appropriate Government under the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, is the Central Government;
- (ii) in relation to any other establishment, the Government of the State in which that other establishment is situate;'.

14 of 1947.

Repeal and saving.

3. (1) The Contract Labour (Regulation and Abolition) Amendment 3 of 1986. Ordinance, 1986, is hereby repealed.

(2) Notwithstanding such repeal, anything done or any action taken under the principal Act, as amended by the said Ordinance, shall be deemed to have been done or taken under the principal Act, as amended by this Act.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The definition of "appropriate Government" as contained in the Contract Labour (Regulation and Abolition) Act, 1970 was different from the definition of the said expression as contained in the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. This had resulted in an anomalous situation that for the same establishment the Central Government would be the appropriate Government under the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 and the State Government concerned would be the appropriate Government under the Contract Labour (Regulation and Abolition) Act, 1970. This also created difficulties in the adoption of uniform labour policies and hampered smooth industrial relations. As it was considered urgently necessary to have the same definition of "appropriate Government" in both the Acts, an Ordinance to amend the Contract Labour (Regulation and Abolition) Act, 1970 was promulgated by the President on the 28th January, 1986.

2. This Bill seeks to replace the said Ordinance.

NEW DELHI;

PURNO A. SANGMA.

The 17th February, 1986.

FINANCIAL MEMORANDUM

Clause 2 of the Bill seeks to substitute the definition of "appropriate Government" as contained in the Contract Labour (Regulation and Abolition) Act, 1970 with the definition of it as contained in the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. The amendment will have the effect of increasing the number of establishments in respect of which the Central Government will be the appropriate Government under the Contract Labour (Regulation and Abolition) Act, 1970. Accordingly, the burden of work on the Central Industrial Relations Machinery will increase and that Machinery will have to be suitably augmented and strengthened for this purpose. At this stage, it is not possible to make an accurate estimate of the recurring and non-recurring expenditure that would be involved. However, the expenditure of a recurring nature which will be mainly towards defraying the salaries, etc., is not likely to exceed rupees five lakhs per year and the expenditure of a non-recurring nature which will be mainly for providing furniture, etc., is not likely to exceed rupees twenty thousand.

2. The Bill, if enacted, will not involve any other recurring or non-recurring expenditure.
